

Affect vs. Effect Worksheet #1 Answers

1. Effect—The blank is preceded by the word the, making it a noun.
2. Effect—Effect is a noun modified by 'grave' (adjective).
3. Effect—The blank is preceded by the word an, making it a noun.
4. Effect— The blank is preceded by the word no, making it a noun.
5. Effect— The blank is preceded by the word an, making it a noun.
6. Affect—Affect is a verb form that means to influence and fits within the context of the sentence.
7. Effect—Effect is used as a verb meaning to cause.
8. Effect— The blank is preceded by the word the, making it a noun.
9. Effects— The blank is preceded by the word a, making it a noun.
10. Effect— The blank is preceded by the word the, making it a noun.