

Affect vs. Effect Worksheet #2 Answers

1. Effective—The adjective form of effect, written as effective, means producing a desired outcome, which fits within the context of this sentence.
2. Affected—Affect is a verb form that means to influence and fits within the context of the sentence.
3. Affects—Affect is a verb form that means to influence and fits within the context of the sentence.
4. Effects—Since dangerous is an adjective, it needs to be followed by a noun, thus making effect the correct word.
5. Effect—When effect is used as a verb, it means to bring about, to cause, or to accomplish, which therefore makes it the correct form to use within the context of this sentence.
6. Affect—Affect is a verb form that means to influence and fits within the context of the sentence.
7. Affected—Affect is a verb form that means to influence and fits within the context of the sentence.
8. Effect—The blank is preceded by the word the, making it a noun.
9. Affected—Affect is a verb form that means to influence and fits within the context of the sentence.
10. Affect—Affect is a verb form that means to influence and fits within the context of the sentence.